Literacy and Literature - New Guinea is sponsoring an adult literacy magazine called READ. It is edited and printed by the Summer Institute of Linguistics, Ukarumpa, E.H.D. and is intended as an all round guide on the subject of literacy, especially as it relates to adults. It is also a forum for the sharing and exchange of ideas relating to the problems and techniques of making people literate and giving them a desire to read.

Although especially oriented towards the Territory it is of general interest to all engaged in literacy work. Articles are encouraged in the fields of literacy teaching and the development of literature for newly emerging countries. They may be related to the Territory or elsewhere and should be submitted to the Editor. The magazine is published quarterly, and subscription rates are $1 (Aust) per annum or 25¢ per issue.
